

Figure list

Non-technical summary

- Figure NTS1 Site location and application boundary
- Figure NTS2 Consented 2006 master plan
- Figure NTS3 Progression of the consented development
- Figure NTS4 Areas identified to accommodate the additional dwellings
- Figure NTS5 Consented 2006 building heights
- Figure NTS6 Consented 2006 building density

Chapter 1: Introduction and EIA methodology

- Figure 1.1 Site location
- Figure 1.2 Site boundary
- Figure 1.3 Location of developments considered for cumulative assessment

Chapter 2: Site description and the proposals

- Figure 2.1 Progression of the consented development
- Figure 2.2 Consented 2006 master plan
- Figure 2.3 Consented 2006 building heights
- Figure 2.4 Consented 2006 building density
- Figure 2.5 Areas identified to accommodate the additional dwellings

Chapter 3: Air quality

- Figure 3.1 Location of sensitive receptors

Chapter 4: Natural heritage

- Figure 4.1 Sensitivity of resource – natural heritage
- Figure 4.2 Magnitude of change – natural heritage
- Figure 4.3 Significance of effect – natural heritage
- Figure 4.4 2005 phase 1 habitat survey
- Figure 4.5 2012 updated phase 1 habitat survey
- Figure 4.6 Great crested newt potential of the site
- Figure 4.7 Trees inspected for bat roosts in 2004 and 2005

Chapter 5: Social and community

- Figure 5.1 Sensitivity of receptor – social and community
- Figure 5.2 Magnitude of change – social and community
- Figure 5.3 Significance of effect – social and community

Chapter 6: Traffic and transport

- Figure 6.1 Sensitivity of receptor – traffic and transport
- Figure 6.2 Magnitude of change – traffic and transport
- Figure 6.3 Significance of effect – traffic and transport
- Figure 6.4 Location of links

Chapter 7: Hydrology and water quality

- Figure 7.1 Sensitivity of receptor – hydrology and water quality
- Figure 7.2 Magnitude of change – hydrology and water quality
- Figure 7.3 Significance of effect – hydrology and water quality
- Figure 7.4 Environment Agency aquifer and groundwater information
