Intrusive investigation to determine site contamination :

Accompanying this note, is an extract from the 218 page "soils investigation" report carried out by Structural Soils Limited of Bristol.

The extract is the written element of the report, the remainder not issued are the trial pit logs themselves (this primarily due to size and manageability of the document, but can be forwarded if requested).

The conclusions and summaries, suggest no concerns in respect to Human Health or the need for remediation.
