Comments	The existing housing developments are largely filled with low quality housing with postage stamp gardens. They are quickly sold as they are largely undesirable. They are pushing up the cost of housing in the area and are also moving residents further away from the beautiful countryside that surrounds it, making the area less desirable to live in. Banbury does not have suitable transport infrastructure to accommodate these and would be better served by improving its own transport links in, rather than continuing to expand. While employment is strong, the pay band of the roles available does not support the prices of mortgages that will be demanded by yet another profiteering housebuilder.
