Comments	I previously objected to the application on adjacent land, and those reasons for objection are even more pertinent for 22/03064/OUT. Cherwell District Council must refuse this application to demonstrate that Banbury has reached its northern built limit, preserve North Oxfordshire countryside and maintain separation between the Banbury town and Hanwell village. The charm of north Oxfordshire's landscape is found in Cherwell's villages with their own unique character, which has evolved and been nurtured over centuries. The Council has an obligation to conserve and enhance the historic identity and character of villages such as Hanwell surrounding larger towns such as Banbury. This proposed development represents destruction of open countryside and goes against the Local Plan. The continued spread of Banbury northwards would result in the loss of land of significant landscape value. Critically it represents erosion of the rural character of villages such as Hanwell. For these reasons the planning application must be refused.
