Comments	<input type="text" value="Whilst i am not in favour of large scale additions to the village, in my view this is a conversion of an existing single storey building which will have little or no negative impact on the neighbourhood. it could in fact bring further children into the village which is invigorating to the community. There are quite a few of the houses at this end of the village which are in fact conversions of agricultural buildings so it is not without some precedent, and creates the character of the village.&lt;br/&gt;A four bedroom house is likely to be a family home including children which be a positive addition to the community, help maintain the village facilities, including the pub, an important community focus."/>
