Comments	<input type="text" value="The new estate will not have its own entrance from the main road so the plan will be for Tyrrell Road to become the through road to the estate which will result in a marked increase to traffic on Tyrrell Road (and that's on top of the Redrow houses still to be built on Tyrrell Road and further into the estate and the road already being congested). It could also mean that Tyrrell Road will remain mostly unsurfaced until the new estate is completed due to works vehicles needing access, which will affect the noise level.

Also it's important to preserve agricultural land, wildlife and nature too, with a lot of the green spaces already being built on, affecting air quality and climate change. People (and a lot of families) moved to Bloxham vale because they are close to nature, and it will affect living quality."/>
