Comments	<input type="text" value="I object firmly to any new development north of Dukes Meadow Drive. Dukes Meadow Drive was set as the defensible boundary and urban limit to the North of Banbury. This land is not in the local plan, is not sustainable, will be highly visible on the landscape and erodes the identity and setting of Hanwell Village as a Conservation Area. This is another example of Developer's land grabbing at a time when farm land must be protected. Furthermore, additional housing in and around Banbury cannot be supported by the existing road network and will add to the current air pollution problems (ref Hennef Way - one of the UK's most polluted roads). The North edge of Banbury has already had its share of development and other options must now be evaluated instead - Developers must be encouraged (incentivised, financially if necessary) to develop brown-field sites rather than land grab our precious and limited natural resource - land."/>
