Whilst o now live up in Leicestershire I still hold a season ticket at Oxford United & I know how important the club is to the residents of Oxfordshire.

My stepson, Leicestershire born, is also a season ticket holder & now travels up from London for games.

The new ground will give the club & people of Oxfordshire knowledge that it is sustainable & will be around for many years to come.

It will allow exiles like me to travel by train rather than driving, it will allow locals to have a focal point not just for the football but for events & well being centre will be there for all.

Football is more than just a game it helps build lasting friendships with people we would not otherwise meet & gives everyone a chance to mix. This is good for mental & physical health.

Too many people get isolated in society now & the club will help give them a chance to talk & grow.
