Comments	In order to maintain a lifeblood facet of the Oxfordshire community, something which brings together generations, benefits mental health, brings support to the economy and is a cultural pillar of the community, it is imperative that the stadium developments at Stratfield Brake are allowed to go through. This will preserve a hundreds of year old institution with all the benefits mentioned above and more, in a sustainable and beneficial way to all of the surrounding community, negating the potential drawbacks that have been ill-informally proposed.
	country. To let such a pivotal part of the Oxfordshire community die by not allowing a permanent home to be built would be to fail these responsibilities
