I have been going to Oxford United for over 60 years and trouble from fans are at the lowest now. Getting there will be easier with train and road access better. A lot of people coming to Kidlington will have to be policed well as the traffic managed to keep most out of Kidlington, but all is manageable.

Parking in South Kidlington will need residence only parking, Sainsburys parking will need looking at. Possibly the train station, park and ride parking will need expanding, even one layer added.

The bridge over the road from the station is a must.

Bus access to drop off and pickup is also a must for those buses coming from park and rides and football specials.

There's no doubt there will be some disturbance with football coming to Kidlington but with a lot of thought and planning it's only 23 home games plus some cup games a year it should be limited to an hour before and half an hour after.

Don't forget that's some Saturdays and some Tuesdays.

I've lived in Kidlington since 1978 and I am looking forward to seeing the new ground coming to Kidlington.
