The addition of clubs, shops, restaurants, a hotel, and other facilities metntioned in the proposal would severely affect the limited green zone south of Kidlington.

It would reduce the green space for children to play and experience nature, as well as make it harder for dog owners to find peaceful space for dog walks. Although the proposed zone is outside the area currently used for these activities, the addition of new buildings, noise, and reduction of nature would affect the surrounding woodlands and area and anyone walking there. It would also reduce the amount of wildlife and the number of birds able to make a home in the area in spaces less affected by human traffic.
