I have been an Oxford united fan for 25 years, following my dad taking me to my first game at 6 years old.

I have seen the highs and lows of the club and it has become an important part of my life. I work for the NHS as a mental health practitioner, as you can imagine my work is very stressful, having football is the outlet I need to de-stress and balance out the chaos.

The thought that Oxford United could be homeless in 2026 and my beloved club may cease to exist breaks my heart.

Football is a community and I take great pride in the work Oxford United do with community engagement. Football brings people together with a united cause, we live in a world where loneliness is a killer and football gives a shared purpose and a friend to sit next to you and have a chat.

I implore you to think about the opportunities this new stadium will create. The jobs, the community hub and the ability to continue Oxford's long and rich history.
