Comments	I whole heartedly object to this development and I would like for this to be rejected. The primary reason for moving to a village is that I did not want to be part of a big town. What attracted me towards Hanwell was that it's a beautiful little village with a lovely heritage and a lovely village spirit. Far too often villages are lost to greed and whilst I understand there is a need for housing, there are more suitable sites that do not impact on anyone. Of course landowners will want to make money, I paid a premium to live in a village and for it to be joined with Banbury is not only a shame for a village to be lost to a big development, it will also affect the value of properties in the village for which nobody will be compensated. There will also be a lot more traffic running through the village as it's generally a rat run to get from one side of Banbury to another which is dangerous on the narrow roads. Horses are often ridden through the village and I fear it is an accident waiting to happen, we need to reduce the traffic, not increase it. Please reconsider this and allow Hanwell to remain a beautiful country village
