Dear Ms. Taylor: I note that Gladmans are apt to argue that whatever is not forbidden (i.e. by a neighbourhood development plan) is permitted. This is a simple logical fallacy because it is based on a demonstrably false premise. The issue was addressed in litigation involving Canterbury and I attach a copy of the judgment for your information. I do not think that Gladman are being entirely candid in respect of the information and argument which they are addressing to CDC.

I am a member of BPC but I write this in my personal capacity as a resident of Bloxham.
