Comments	<input type="text" value="While it would be excellent for many reasons for us to have a thriving village shop in Kirtlington, my understanding is that as the result of a variety of circumstances this cannot now happen without substantial investment. After a number of setbacks, Amier and his family are not in a position to provide this, nor is the shop in its current condition likely to be saleable. So it would seem there is nothing to be gained from preventing the change of use from commercial to residential status."/>
