Mr White already has a non agricultural business on the farm 're gentle van removals . This involves 7 lorries 2 of which are hgv. This involves at least 7 lorry drivers constantly going up and down the drive . I live at Five Corners , Parsons Barn and was the previous owner . The barn in the planning as an egg packing unit was never used as part of the equestrian hay and straw business . I owned 6 horses and 200 sheep so the barn was for my personal use. The farm is only 75 acres and Mr White knew it would only be a hobby farm when he bought it . He does not need another business on the proprty . The present sewage digester had the capacity to facilitate 2 dwellings - mine and his .I believe the egg toilet etc is connected to this digester which will overload
