Comments	<input type="text" value="I object to this application on the grounds of the building's location in an AONB and the nature of the buildings themselves. It is not a charming stone barn redundant for modern agricultural purpose but an ugly ill constructed environmentally unfriendly building of recent construction. Originally screened from the village/road because of its prominence on high ground. The applicant appears to have removed the screening in recent months and the proposed new building would be an eyesore in such a prominent location. The light after dark from the open nature of the design and an adjacent barn which the applicant has also sought permission to develop would intrude upon the rural darkness of this location. It is effectively a new development on an agricultural site and should be rejected."/>
