Comments	<input type="text" value="Unfortunately my objections are not based on any legal understanding of planning laws, as such I am objecting on what feels fair and right. If I or anyone else bought a field in the middle of nowhere we would not get permission to build on the land we would probably have trouble building a stable, this type of development just feels unfair one set of rules for one sector of the community and another set of rules for a different sector of the community. I understand the ridge and furrow has already been destroyed- it's all just such a shame and I hope common sense prevails and the application is refused."/>
