With this evolution from local to national the venue has seen an expansion to its track and infrastructure, the arrival of more powerful and noisy motorbikes and a large influx of participants and spectators to a location who's entrance gate is down a single track road on a blind corner, which is an accident waiting to happen; or in my case an almost accident when a Renault van and trailer pulled out into my path without looking. My home is at the top of Millers Lane and my back garden looks out over the North Oxfordshire countryside and the rise in decibels over the last few years from race days is very noticeable. Rather than my hearing being the judge of that, several friends who have visited us infrequently over the years have commented on the increased noise penetration becoming a blight on the tranquillity for Hornton's residents. I therefore object strongly to this application to expand to 24 days racing on all the points above. Not being a Moto crosser myself but I would assume that with the competitive nature of the participants you don't turn up in your mobile home and trailer to take part for just the race day but take advantage of the opportunity to have "/>
