Comments	I have lived on Langford village for 20 years and watched the estate grow. Gavray Meadows are a green haven for the residents as they act as a large pair of green lungs in the middle of a huge housing estate, the ring road and the large trading estates. Gavray Meadows are home to an incredible number of different species of wildlife, including endangered species such as the fratillery butterfly. Since living here I have seen families of Muntjac deer, Herons, Kingfishers in the stream, Green and spotted Woodpeckers, Egrits, Jay's and many other species of amazing birds. There are so many species making their home on that site it would be a travesty to allow building to go ahead on this precious green site. Surely there are other Brown sites available for greedy developers to build, Please do not allow this incredible wildlife habitat be wiped out forever. We need to do everything in our power to protect them.
