Comments	<input type="text" value="The Gavray site is one of the few remaining wilder areas in Bicester providing a home to much need wildlife and an open space for people to walk in. The wilder nature of the area suggests to me that it is far more diverse than other open areas in Bicester. It would be extremely sad to be surrounded by more buildings. I value what green spaces we have left and hope they remain and that me and my children and others can continue to enjoy them. I was interested to read some of the posts from Susan Hall and the Save Gavray meadows group and the comments about negative environmental impact and would like to use this space to thank them for the care and attention they have paid to this issue."/>
