| Comments           | <input type="text" value="My family and I strongly object to the proposed development of the Gavray meadow site. This area is a fantastic recreational space and has been a total saviour, to many, during the lockdown period and beyond. The area is abundant with wildlife and its unmanicured nature means it can sustain diverse ecosystems for many animals. We have seen a wide range of wildlife on our many walks in that area including Muntjac deer, many species of butterflies, dragonflies and lizards. I understand that there is a housing shortage but I do feel that Bicester has contributed a substantial amount already to our national housing crisis. I was also lead to believe that Bicester was a garden city, how can it retain this status if all the green (garden) space is developed?"/> |
