Comments	<input type="text" value="I do not think that it is appropriate to have a fully residential caravan park on the outskirts of the village as the proposed site is so close to a school. Generally the most likely residents of such a site would be of an itinerant nature and the village already has a number of people living on the canal and using the ever growing canal marina that wasn't supposed to be residential when planning was submitted but fear that there are several people who reside there. The proposed area is currently beautiful countryside with an abundance of wildlife many of which are threatened and who will lose yet more vital habitat to the detriment of all. Also the village infrastructure is at maximum capacity so further development will impede on all residents."/>
