Comments	<input type="text" value="Please note that I am a trike rider who travels along the A41. The path is far too small on both sides, leaving no room for two way traffic. The path is far too close to the road, and I'm sure you're aware that the traffic including lorries and vans is terribly heavy. When the hedges and weeds grow into the spring and summer time, I've definitely fallen off the path on a few occasions. There are places where I would rather walk on the road and push my trike, for fear of falling off. The lighting is terrible, if I've had to travel at night time, which thankfully I don't have to do often, I am even more wary about where the trike is on the path. The path is terribly uneven and prone to flooding making the whole experience of cycling this route horrendous. Huge improvements are required to this stretch of road."/>
