With regard to the above planning application on Kirtlington Post Office Stores for change of use from a shop to residential.

The neighbouring village of Blectingdon now has a new COOP which sell more than any small village shop could hope to sell and they are also willing to pack-up and deliver to some of the vulnerable in the village. This is a complete asset to the elderly and infirm.

I think this probably now make a village shop in Kirtlington unviable now so I have no objection to this being changes to residential.

Thank you
Lydia Boodell
