Comments	<input type="text" value="I support this application to change the use of the building which has been Kirtlington's village shop to an entirely residential dwelling. I have lived in Kirtlington for 30 years and been a regular customer of the shop, but times have changed and it is clear that, as a business, it had become unviable. All essentials can now be purchased online or at the Bletchington Co-operative, and the role of the shop has changed. Much as it is regrettable that the village can no longer support an independent shop (especially for the older residents of the village), and as a purchaser for the business cannot be found, it is only right that the current owners should be able to change the use of their property."/>
