Comments	<input type="text" value="We would like to support this application for change of use of Kirtlington village shop. Unfortunately, over recent years, it became increasingly apparent that the shop was not viable. It is a small space, and in spite of valiant efforts by the current owners, it did not have enough custom. The opening of the Co-op in Bletchingdon destroyed the passing trade, which previously would stop at the shop en route through the village; and residents of Kirtlington have found that the larger Co-op, with its much better choice, was a preferable alternative. This being the case, it seems very reasonable to allow the property to be converted for residential use."/>
