| Comments | <input type="text" value="Much as I miss our lovely shop, having worked there on a voluntary basis it was clear that there was not enough support within the village to sustain it as a commercial venture, leading to its closure. New shops in Heyford and Bletchingdon, operated by national retailers rather than individuals, will always have greater buying power and shoppers habits have changed with more of us now using online delivery services. I miss being able to walk to a local shop but I can't see anyone buying it as a commercial venture given the losses it has sustained in recent years so I fully support the application to change the building's usage into residential."/> |
