Comments	<input type="text" value="We have two concerns regarding the above planning application.:- The destruction of ancient hedgerows on the verge bordering the pavement and to the lower part of the valley by the stream to clear a site for an agricultural barn to be erected has so far been carried out showing no regard for the ecological balance and natural scenic beauty of that part of the valley. Whatever plans the applicant has, there is a well known ancient wildlife run through that part of the valley which will be forever disturbed/ruined should the land be developed in the manner proposed. The possibility of the proposed agricultural barn and surrounding land being used as a retail outlet and commercial site raises very serious road traffic safety concerns. No matter where the access point is placed, the approach from the north will always be a blind approach. This combined with the steep gradient guarantees inevitable collisions and in the case of cyclists a death trap"/>
