Comments	<input type="text" value="Foxden Way & its feeder lanes are just single track lanes with no passing places, except by using very soft verges that will become muddy bogs very quickly. There is an extremely limited public transport (two return trips over 7 days!) make commuting to work necessary by vehicle - and the roads leading to and accessing the site are not suitable for an increased traffic flow. Either the developer will need to improve the surrounding lanes to make passing places, or otherwise a developer contribution to a far better public transport revision is required before support of any kind can be made. I am a supporter of the First Homes strategy, but they must be built in more suitable locations than this."/>
