Comments	<input type="text" value="While I welcome the addition of the new doctors facilities at Graven Hill, I believe improvements would be necessary for help people reach the facilities safely and easily. The Rodney House roundabout to access Graven Hill is not good for pedestrians, cyclists or car drivers at the present, and so will struggle further with increased traffic to the doctor's. I cross the roundabout daily as a pedestrian, many barriers are missing due to collision damage and have not been replaced. I regularly see driver going through red light at the crossings because of the poor layout. Driving to Graven Hill from the direction of Tesco's is difficult because of the poor lane layout and lack of space for cars heading to Graven Hill to wait at the traffic lights on the roundabout without blocking the one lane exiting to Aylesbury. Without improvement these problems will get worse."/>
