Comments	<input type="text" value="None of the updates appear to address any of the concerns that were raised with the initial application. First off the developer is now trying to go back on the zero carbon homes on the basis that it's not financially feasible. Isn't this a core tenet of the eco-town? The updates also fail to address the traffic issues on the state with Charlotte and Braeburn Avenues. There are often cars parked on these roads making them single lane which can cause issues with the number of homes we have already. With another 530+ homes using this as main thoroughfares this will only get worse. In the mornings the cars can queue up on the B4100 from the roundabout back up to near St. Edburg's Church so how another 530+ homes with cars will not affect this is hard to believe."/>
