Comments	<input type="text" value="As a resident of Wardington, I object to this development on a number of grounds: 1. The planning application includes a new service station. There are numerous service stations within a few miles of junction 11 on the M40. A new service station does not benefit the area in any way shape or form. 2. A new service station, two restaurants, a coffee shop and a hotel does not create highly paid, technical, forward looking employment. 3. The proposed plan would increase the traffic on an already congested junction. The M40 roundabout and the A361 would not be fit for purpose when dealing with this increased volume of traffic. 4. An increase in traffic on junction 11 of the M40 would increase the air pollution in the area. Air pollution not only has a massive impact on people's health but it also has a massive impact on climate change and global warming. Every individual or organisation should do what they can to reduce this impact, especially given the fact that the government is looking to bring in legislation with regards to air pollution."/>
