Comments	<input type="text" value="We live on the B4100 between Aynho and Souldern. Our property the adjoins the B4100 where it crosses the river at its lowest point between Aynho &amp; Souldern. The road narrows on what it is a sharp bend as it crosses the river. There are multiple minor accidents every week (broken wing mirrors, being the most frequent). This typically happens when a car is trying to pass a lorry/bus, as there is simply not enough passing room. The last fatality was thankfully a while ago (caused by a tractor and school bus not having enough room to pass), but there are regularly significant accidents (mainly with cars crashing into the stone walls). The most recent major accident was less than 4 weeks ago. The corner / bridge cannot sustain a material increase in traffic without the likelihood of more accidents."/>
