Comments	<input type="text" value="Would ruin the picturesque village, as well as being directly outside our shared driveway which would be a massive eyesore. Very close to where I live as well as many houses which neighbour our land, where a lot of small children live. These children walk to the village school using a footpath that goes directly past the planned tower spot, and I am worried about possible risks to not only their health, living and walking past the tower in such close proximity regularly, but also my own health. It will also diminish the value of the land significantly."/>
