Comments	<input type="text" value="Whilst the need for telephone masts to provide adequate coverage for mobile phone users is not in question, the siting of the proposed mast in Kirtlington must be considered with regard to the local community. The proposed site is very much in the village, will be seen by all who live in and travel through Kirtlington and is a location that is in a conservation area; sensitivities to the proposed site must be considered. Within a few hundred metres, there are alternative sites that are less conspicuous yet would provide the height and range required for the mast to serve its purpose. I would ask that the Planning Department undertakes a thorough review of these alternative options and considers how they would feel if this mast was located so prominently near to their homes, in a conservation area and alongside buildings where planning decisions for amendment are implemented strictly."/>
