Comments	<input type="text" value="I really struggle to understand why a Council that was in touch with those who voted them in, would even consider that erecting a telecoms mast in the middle of a small, beautiful Oxfordshire village was even a matter of consideration? To move the proposed mast some half a mile towards the Golf Club and out of the village would seem an obvious choice. Surely, even if cheaper, there is no caring, empathetic, balanced reason for siting a mast inside the residential boundaries of the village. Please represent the wishes of the residents who voted for you and site the mast appropriately outside of the village. Thank you."/>
