Dear Rebekah,

The archaeological evaluation has been carried out and little archaeological evidence was recovered. I was sent a draft report for the work carried out and I have asked for some amendments which I have not yet received – I have followed up with the contractor today asking for the finalised evaluation report.

Kind regards,

Victoria

Hello,

The agent for the above application has advised us that they have resolved the outstanding archaeological issues with yourselves. Would you be able to confirm this and advise if it alters your initial comments.

The application is due to go to committee in March, so I'm currently finalising the report. If you have any questions or need more information, please email me – ignore my out of office, I will be logging on in the evenings to sort committee items.

With kind regards

Rebekah Morgan
