Comments	<input "="" type="text" value="3 areas for concern 1. The village The mast will be the first and last thing you see driving through the village. Kirtlington is one of the most beautiful villages in Cherwell. Conservation is hugely important ie the village pond has secured 1000s of pounds to have it restored. Street lights are frowned on and sustainable Kirtlington is constantly hard at work. Why then would a huge mast in the village be acceptable? 2. Personal The mast will be the first thing we see from our bedrooms, living room and garden. This will affect us every day. 3. Who gains? Like everyone else I would welcome improved reception however I don't believe that this location is in the interest of the village. The telecoms company and maybe other groups will benefit financially but surely the mast should be in an area that does not spoil everything about the village? "/>
