Comments	<input type="text" value="Yet more destruction of our countryside. This is absolutely disgraceful. Villages are just being eaten up by the vast and rapid extension of Bicester. This is not sustainable- Bicester can't continue to expand at the rate that it is. The promise of maintaining fields /a green buffer between Bicester and the surrounding villages is fast becoming a myth- it's not fair to the people that have lived, worked and paid their taxes here. This is not what the people of Bicester want! The high street is dead, people can't get a dentist or doctors appointment, children can't get into their chosen school, - yet here you are, focussing on the destruction of our farms and green spaces! I thought Bicester was meant to be a healthy town? A garden city? What is healthy and green about destroying the countryside and it's wildlife? Adding extra pollution to the air and fast food outlets wherever you can! My ancestors farmed a vast majority of Bicester and Buckingham- and what's left of it now? At a time when we are being encouraged to shop locally and to support our farmers, what farms will Bicester have left in 10 years. A total disrespect and no value put onto the profession that keeps our country alive. No value put on the people who have worked and saved for years so they are able to buy a house only to have the value slashed and their quality of life ruined by the council allowing these large developments to happen so frequently and over such a large area."/>
