Comments	<input type="text" value="The proposal to increase yet again the housing of this area is a further example of greed, and lack of consideration for the existing residents. The amount of housing has increased exponentially in the Bicester area. Enough is enough. We are constantly removing fields, wildlife habitats and replacing them with housing estates without considering drainage from increasingly more frequent weather extremes. There is already a problem in supplying water for existing developments. The infrastructure of our area has been ignored too often to permit further increased housing. Roads cannot cope at key times. It is about time that the local communities of this area are listened to, instead of allowing the constant need of developers to swamp the area. I urge you to reject this application, and to ensure that any appeal is rejected as well. There must be local decision making, instead of money driven so-called developments."/>
