Comments	<input type="text" value="I cannot see that this application brings any benefit to the area close to Bicester. The town and surrounding villages have over the last few years contributed generously to the housing needs of the area. This additional housing in itself has brought many difficulties to the road network, schooling and health facilities and an additional 3100 houses is not going to improve an already stretched infrastructure. On top of that we will have more destruction to our countryside and natures habitat which seems counterproductive in an age where we are beginning to understand that preservation of our countryside is one of the solutions to a healthy life. It doesn't take a genius to work out that with extra housing on the scale proposed will bring more automobiles, which obviously increases congestion and pollution to our environment. I note that the developers are calling this proposal 'a village' but that is only marketing speak. If this application is successful then on the basis of this 'new village' I am looking forward to Bicester bidding for city status in the next ten years."/>
