Comments	<input type="text" value="Sirs, I am not a resident of Bucknell as you will see. However I feel I must object to this latest grotesque plan for colossal development, again around Bicester. I worked as a Bicester GP for almost forty years and have seen the progressive despoilment of Bicester over that time and always without consideration for the essential infrastructure which the town needs. Where will the schools, the medical services, the hospital cover, the social facilities come from to serve another huge influx of population? Clearly Bicester is the sacrificial lamb yet again. The town is being ruined and will one day become another Skelmersdale. I should like to see you try to put a plan like this before the population of Burford, Lechlade and the like. Now what did John Betjeman say about Slough !? Richard Evans."/>
