| Comments | <input type="text" value="Objection letter attached. The real frustrations are that this is just unnecessary development, for development sake. The character and nature of these villages is becoming disregarded. One successful application seems to open the flood gates. You only have to look at Hook Norton to see what might happen! When i moved here in 2020, it was already a bone of contention that the infrastructure of the services was already struggling to cope with the existing dwellings. Lest hope common sense for once prevails. Regards Charles Parker"/> |
