Comments	<input type="text" value="This was always a lovely pub that the village fully supported and is very much missed. On it being bought by the Abbey in Wroxton who always said it would return as a pub, this has sadly never happened. Now it's been sold and plans in to turn to a dwelling is just so wrong. Now with the White Horse also closed there is no pub in our village. We has a community would support and use it as we did in the past, also many people traveled to visit it due to its location and walks around the area. Sunday roasts dinners in the lovely front garden were always a big hit with all tables full and many in the restaurant to, Let's not deprive a village and it's community along with many other people who once enjoyed this place of having somewhere to meet up and look forward to going with friends and family members, it's a British tradition to go to your local pub, we have lost that now. Let's get it back !!!"/>
