Comments	<input type="text" value="As the owner of a pub which was in a similar situation to this - i.e closed down and with vultures circling to turn it into a house, I can tell you from experience what a sense of satisfaction it is to re-open it and bring it back to life as a pub. It isn't easy and needs support from the community, but our pub has been open for 4 months now and we have locals coming in and almost crying with relief at what can be done - we have quiz nights, theme nights, we had carol singers performing, we are only small but we have already become the focal hub for our community. Under the right ownership and management, The North Arms can do the same - Once a pub closes and changes to residential use, you wont ever get it back. Dont give this permission for a change of use - look harder for a new owner - keep this as a pub and keep this as a service to the community."/>
