Comments	<input type="text" value="Such an extension will hopelessly alter the appearance of the houses at the back, such that all views will be drastically altered, especially as all houses have only very limited garden areas and these are the only areas where during the summer residents can sit outside, in the fresh air, this pleasure will be drastically curtailed, particularly for the immediate neighbours. All the work will have to come in from the front of the house, which means vans and lorries trying to negotiate a very narrow road and then more than likely blocking the road for long hours at a time and I would mention that with the Surgery next door, that may well inconvenience very ill patients. These are lovely traditional cottages, which have a uniform shape, such an extension filling most if not all the back garden, would hopelessly change the character of all the dwellings.....considering the owner already is an absentee one, any inconvenience will not be experienced by them and that at the root of this application, is nothing but a desire to maximise the value of the property, at his neighbours expense."/>
