Comments	<input type="text" value="Far from being an insignificant area this is in fact one of outstanding interest and beauty. It has some of the last remaining ridge and furrow fields in the area and is close to conservation areas. The surrounding district is already blighted with many huge sheds along the edge of the M40 and to allow this development to further encroach on the countryside would be a tragedy The infrastructure in the area is already under impossible strain The roads are at capacity with gridlock situations occurring ever more frequently and to add hundreds more traffic (lorry) movements to this would be a complete disaster"/>
