Comments	<input type="text" value="I'm late to object because my daughter has been in hospital in Oxford for weeks and we have not been at home. Her bedroom window overlooks the green meadow where Elan want to build nearly 50 houses and I have not told her of the plans because it will affect her mental health at an already difficult time. I don't understand how a green site on the edge of a conservation area, in a Category C village in an area of outstanding natural beauty on such a scale could even be considered. I also don't understand how such an application could be approved - to nearly double the size of a small and remote village, without thought to transport, roads, pollution, health, mental health and the social change this will bring about to a rural community. I feel so strongly about the environmental damage this will do to such a beautiful and peaceful spot that I will do whatever it takes to prevent this happening and support the mental health of my anxious daughter and our family."/>
