Katherine,

I am unable to add a comment, as the webpage 'requires' a comment to be added even when I add a comment.

In relation to 22/00967/DISC my comments are:

With regard to condition 7, fire hydrants, we have no adverse comments with regard to indicative positions on the assumption that the on-site main is a minimum of 90mm in diameter, fed from a suitably sized water main providing sufficient flow and pressure.
